

Your Excellencies,

We are writing to urge you to reject any attempt at United Nations General Assembly plenary to defer consideration of parts of the United Nations Human Rights Council report.

As civil society organizations from all regions of the world, we look to the Human Rights Council for protection of the human rights of all. Every year, after much deliberation, debate and substantive negotiations, the Council adopts numerous resolutions, mandating panels, reports, Special Procedures, Commissions of Inquiry and other tools and mechanisms.

The creation of an Independent Expert to address violence and discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity in June 2016 was fully within the mandate and authority of the Human Rights Council. It was a decision based on the findings in two reports A/HRC/19/41 and A/HRC/29/23 that the Council requested of the UN High Commissioner for Human Rights. The Council concluded that protection against violence and discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation and gender identity merited particular attention.

We are concerned the authority granted to the Council by the General Assembly will be fundamentally undermined if the General Assembly seeks to reopen the Council's annual report and select which resolutions it supports and which it seeks to block, even on the pretext of deferment. In effect, this would open all Council resolutions up to renegotiation and debate every year, and have far-reaching implications well beyond the specific resolution currently under consideration. While this current move specifically targets the creation of this Independent Expert by the Council similar reasoning could be employed to undermine any decision validly taken by the Council at any time.

It has been suggested that there is no legal basis for the mandate of the Independent Expert. The legal basis for the mandate is exactly the same as the legal basis on which all three sexual orientation and gender identity (SOGI) resolutions adopted by the Council were founded, including that presented by South Africa in 2011 and that presented by Brazil, Chile, Colombia and Uruguay in 2014.

The establishment of the Independent Expert does not seek to create new standards, but simply to address within the existing framework provided by established international human rights law a protection gap for individuals facing violence and discrimination on the basis of their sexual orientation and gender identity. Special Procedures mandates have been created in recent years by the Council focusing on systemic discrimination, marginalization and violations of a number of populations that have no explicit reference in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, such as persons with albinism and older persons.

A mandate-holder was appointed to the position of Independent Expert at the September session of the Human Rights Council without a vote, and has already assumed office and commenced work as of 1st November 2016. There is no basis in the attempt to now prevent the mandate holder from continuing his important work. We look to all states to uphold and defend institutional integrity of United Nations human rights system and the principle of non-discrimination at the upcoming General Assembly Plenary.
